

CARD.—Having this day sold out my entire business in general clothing, hats, caps and gents' furnishing goods to Messrs. McFarland, Smith & Co., I take this opportunity to tender my sincere thanks to my friends and the public for their patronage during the past seven years, and most respectfully solicit a continuance of the same for my successors.

J. A. LOSEE.

Titusville, Dec. 29, 1869.

COPARTNERSHIP.—The undersigned having this day purchased the stock, good, will, &c., formerly owned by J. A. Losee, in the general clothing, hats, caps, and gents' furnishing goods, have formed a co-partnership under the firm name of McFarland, Smith & Co., and will continue the business at the old stand, corner of Spring and Franklin streets. Outstanding accounts will be collected and adjusted by the new firm.

EUGENE L. SMITH,
N. IRWIN SUGGINS.

Titusville, Pa., Dec. 29, 1869.

Titusville Morning Herald.

Wednesday, January 5, 1870.

A REGULAR meeting of the Common Council will be held this evening.

REMEMBER the lecture of Col. Hosmer at Corinthian Hall this evening.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Fruit Growers' Society will convene at Lancaster on the 19th inst.

ONE of the original Tom Thumbs will exhibit his diminutive self in Titusville on about Thursday, January 6th.

COLMAN'S New Year's ball at Corinthian Hall on Monday evening was a lively and pleasant affair and was largely attended.

The Pittsburgh Gazette celebrated on Saturday its 55th anniversary. Fifteen years more and the centennial will have arrived.

SEVERAL substantial contributions were received yesterday toward the relief of the destitute family referred to in our columns.

CHORUS TICKETS for Kittingburg, Parker's Landing, Seaboard, Foster and Franklin, have been placed on sale at the railway depot.

PROF. J. P. BROWN'S class in vocal music will meet on Wednesday evening, at the Shamburg School House. The public are invited.

"This is an act of God," says a well-known man on Tuesday, the 18th of January. A large pile of corn and wheat and measures of military organization will be present.

The attention of our readers is invited to the auction sale of furs at Rice's Auction Store. The stock, it will be seen, is of the greatest variety, and the greatest inducements are held out to purchasers.

THUNDER is a dear trip to the country, treasury, but what the amount is no one seems to know. The County Treasurer, who was sent to Diamond House, abandoned the books of his office some two months ago, and the County Commissioners have made no contribution to his use.

NEW WELLS.—Appropos to New Year's Messrs. A. L. Morse and Parker struck a new well on the Tyndal farm last Saturday, which is producing between twenty and twenty-five barrels per day. It was the first test well on a twenty-acre tract, facing these gentlemen, and they are to be congratulated upon its highly promising developments.

"THE COMPLAINTS OF THE SEAWOMAN."—The Allentown (Pennsylvania) Democrat says: "Joseph L. Adams, of Ocala, August 1, 1869, without paying for it. Would like to see you come down with $18.17. Joseph, if you don't, are we going to make the best 'local' of you that our readers have seen in a long time. So take your choice, Joe."

MR. E. O. ADAMS, of Pleasantville, requests us to correct the statement made by us yesterday, speaking of the presentation of a watch to that gentleman. He says he is not the General Superintendent of the Titusville Pipe Company, as represented. He desires to appropriate no title that does not belong to him. He pleads guilty to being the General Agent of the Company, nothing more. We ask Mr. Adams' pardon, for doing him this unintentional injustice. We will forward the bill for damages to this office.

THE POST HOSMER'S LECTURE THIS EVENING.—Our citizens will not forget Col. Hosmer's lecture this evening. His subject is a poetical satire, "King Humbug and his Court," and the lecturer may be expected to give some hard and amusing hits. The New York Evening Post not long since paid a very just tribute to Col. H., in the following words: "He is himself a poet of the first order, an intense observer of nature, and skillful in delineating images by words, and expressing emotion in verse. He is one whose heart may be expected to be in the subject, and who will speak of it with a degree of feeling which mere knowledge of it does not impart."

STATIONERY FOR THE MILITARY.—Howe & Co. of the P. O. News depot have a very extensive stock of paper, card envelopes, comprising all the various styles and qualities required to a first class wholesale establishment. Their various kinds of foolscap and commercial note paper, are of the best quality and finish, and ranges from the heaviest to the lightest quality, and at prices that cannot fail to suit the times. Their stock of envelopes, printed and other papers which is as varied as the wants and fancies of their purchasers, are marked down to the very lowest figures. In addition to their stationery, pencils, pens, etc., they have a large supply of fancy goods, dainties for 1870, blank books, etc., school books, and in fact, everything else to be found in a variety store. Country and retail dealers will find it greatly to their advantage to call upon Howe & Co. and examine their stock.

THE RED X DELIVERS TRUNKS from R. H. Depot. The Red X delivers furniture, pianos, etc. The Red X delivers packages up to 9 p. m. The Red X charges always reasonable.

WHITE ROCK POTASH, in bulk, for sale by E. K. Thompson, Drugist.

From Parker's Landing.

PARKER'S LANDING, Jan. 3, 1870.

Editors Morning Herald.

I had rather expected lively times here on New Year's, but nothing of note occurred. The Free and Easy was running in full blast most of the day, and until a late hour at night, and the amount of whiskey, beer, etc., consumed must have been enormous judging from the noise which could be heard outside. The town is at the present time about as full of gamblers as we could conveniently accommodate and the game of "Three Card Monte" is played in open daylight at the Ferry Landing or any convenient spot in the town. It is strange that nothing can be done to rid the place of such characters. I think that if the Vigilance Committee of Titusville had the matter in hand, the town would soon be cleared.

The river is on the rise and we shall have big water. Grains are being shipped mostly by boat as cars cannot be had. Production, 1,500 bushels daily. Two new wells of 50 bbls. each have been struck within a few days. Grains $1.50 in bags. Yours truly, BRUNO.

THE DANGERS OF DELAY.—The following statement from the Pleasantville Gleaner, relative to Mr. Charles Lawson, the unfortunate victim to a nitro-glycerine explosion at Shamburg, illustrates in a very striking manner the dangers of procrastination. Mr. Lawson had taken all the precautionary steps towards securing a competence for his family, in the event of his death, through the benefits of life insurance, but he had unfortunately neglected to pay the small premium which was required on his policy, and hence his family lost the fruits of the very wise precaution which prompted him to insure. The history of the case conveys a very instructive lesson to persons in like circumstances and requires no additional comment.

Mr. Charles Lawson, who lost his life at Shamburg, had ordered a $5,000 policy of insurance on his life, which at the time of the accident was in the hands of Mr. J. E. Abbot, agent for the Brooklyn Life Insurance Co. About five hours before the accident occurred which resulted in the death of Mr. Lawson, Mr. Abbot had presented the policy and urged without avail the payment of a small premium. Mr. Lawson, we are informed, leaves a family in cramped pecuniary circumstances. The circumstances of this case make up the most forcible argument in favor of providing life insurance for families and dependent friends in case of death by whatever cause we ever meet with. The man or woman who, having the care and support of others, fails to make the proper provision for such emergencies, leaving the means at hand to do so, is guilty of a recklessness which amounts almost to criminality.

There is another feature in this case which is worthy of note which should establish perfect confidence in the agent, not only to the whole community, but of the company for which he acts. He held in his hands a $5,000 policy. A collusion with one or more of the heirs of the deceased could easily have been effected, the $5,000 taken and divided, and the world would never have known that it was not a case of honorable transaction. The Brooklyn Life Insurance Company is well and ably represented in this place and vicinity by a man who never falters for heat or cold, mud or snow, but is always to be found where the interests of him-off and company require his presence.

DEDICATION SERVICES.—The new Presbyterian church at Pleasantville will be dedicated on Saturday next 8th inst. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Cyrus Dickson, of Baltimore, Maryland. Rev. Drs. Eaton of Franklin and Kane of Erie, with other ministers are expected to be present, and to take part in the services. The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed on Sabbath 6th inst. Services on each day will commence at 11 o'clock a. m., and 7 p. m.

The sweetest perfumes, the finest oils, the newest and best toilet articles, and the best stock of drugs in the market can be found at White & Co's.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY.—Five hundred persons to buy some of the finest dairies in the city, at low prices, all styles and quality. For sale at Faler's Variety Store.

Thackeray's Miscellaneous.

Fields, Osgood & Co., after publishing in cheap and elegant form the standard series of Thackeray's, are now issuing the miscellaneous writings of that charming writer, and the series has already reached the fourth volume.

Vol. 3 contains the Book of Snobs, Sketches and Travels in London; Character Sketches; Denis Diderot; Maud's Wives; Sturges; The First Book. Vol. 4 contains the Four Georges; The English Humors; The Roundabout Papers; The Fitz Boobles Papers, etc. These are all gems of rather minor of varied treasures, sparkling, racy, keen, full of delicious musing, of terrible satire More amusing thoughts, or more masterly, Thackeray never wrote. Their very levity increases their vitality if possible. There is only one unfinished picture in the lot for the hand had made its final stroke. The Four Georges and the English Humors were given in the form of lectures in New York as well as London, Edinburgh and other great cities. At the time they were the rage in literary circles. They are full of curious historical and biographical facts, incident and anecdote. They gleam with humor. They handle imbecile, vicious royalty without gloves, and pass impartial judgment upon the old wife. For sale by the publishers, or at Hurd's.

From Oil City.

Oil City, Jan. 3d, 1870.

Editors Morning Herald: Since my last everything has been quiet here, with nothing to disturb the peace or equanimity of our citizens. The holidays passed off quietly, in fact, it had not been for the absence, we should not have known the difference from other days which brought rich harvests to the rum sellers. But notwithstanding the number of drunken men on the streets, no disturbance was raised of any kind, why, I am not sure, unless the prompt arrest of two frisky youths, aged perhaps fifty or sixty years, was a warning to their evil folk.

Thursday morning, a section train, on the Jamestown and Franklin Railroad, was killed while attempting to get on board of a moving train on the A. & C. W. R. R. about one mile below town. It is the same old story, a gasp, a whistle, and a sudden death. The top of the head was crushed off, and his brains were found lying about twenty feet from his body. And this accident, horrible as it was, is no warning to any one, of the danger consequent upon trying to jump on a moving train. Saturday evening, a boy near the same place, who knew of this accident, tried the same thing, made the same mistake, but not with the same result, he only had his foot crushed off, and a job for the surgeon, so it is.

The subject of a new Town Hall, or some imaginative, enthusiastic, and visionary individual has been heard to exclaim, "An Opera House," is attracting some attention in a new figure shows that an outlay of twenty thousand dollars, will bring an annual interest, of at least twenty per cent. But that is not enough to tempt our capitalists to invest, as long as oil wells yield so much more profit. Then too, no one intends remaining here, after having made this pile." Instantly, P. H. Tierman Esq., who has just purchased a forty thousand dollar farm, on the James River, Virginia, and has thirty men already at work improving it. Others will probably follow his example, and thus money will be made here, and taken away for investment. On New Year's Eve, the congregation of the M. E. Church, called upon their pastor, Rev. Mr. Lytle, and left with him one hundred dollars in United States greenbacks besides many other things valuable and useful, to numerous to mention. New Year's afternoon, Dr. J. R. Arter, who for many years, has had a large practice here, was the recipient, from the hands of Rev. J. Condy, the pastor of the Catholic church, in behalf of its members, of a valuable, solid gold headed cane. The affair passed off very pleasantly, and the Dr. started off on his rounds, the possession of at least seventy-five dollars worth of walking stick. In the evening, between six and seven o'clock, his office student met him on the street and informed him that a man had been seriously injured on the railroad, and was lying at the P. & A. Telegraph office, and that he was wanted immediately to attend him. He (the Dr.) proceeded at once, with visions of amputations, (trephining, or at least fractured limbs on his mind, to attend the sufferer. On arriving at the office no sufferer was to be seen, but instead a large number of the most prominent business men of our city. The Dr. saw that there was something up, and the little arrangement was soon explained by Wm. McNeil, Esq., who, in a short speech, read and to the point, presented to him, in behalf of his numerous friends among the oil men and others, a taken of regard in shape of probably the most costly and elegant gold-headed cane ever brought to the oil regions. The surprise was complete, and the Dr. for a few moments was in a fix, but he soon rallied and expressed his feelings in a manner worthy of the occasion.

The same evening the concert for the benefit of the St. Joseph's Total Abstinence Society came off in the Catholic church. The music was furnished by the St. Mary's (German) choir of Erie. The house was well filled, and every one was highly pleased with the entertainment. Fearing that this letter will take up too much of your valuable space, we will hold over several items till our next.

Oil Territory in Riceville.

RICEVILLE, Jan. 3, 1870.

I do not wish to annoy you or your readers with an account of "dry holes" and tested but worthless territory; I simply wish to state a few facts pertaining to this section. Riceville is situated three miles from Centerville, in a valley on Oil Creek—equal distance from its head the lake by the same name. Long before Petroleum had revolutionized the world, there was in the construction of a mill dam, a small vein of oil opened, which at that time excited some curiosity. However, it was forgotten, until the illustrious Drake struck his well, when it was then refilled too, and reopened by parties who ultimately sunk a hole, and there are to-day many that believe it could be made to pay. There have at different periods been six or eight wells started, but only three put down to a reasonable depth; all of said wells, with one exception, have gone dry, and oil can be dipped from them at any depth. Some months ago a well was commenced, and at a depth less than three hundred feet the prospect was so good that it was pumped for a few days; they then went on, but have for some reason shut down; it is not yet four hundred feet deep.

On the hills we have the sand stone, and, in fact, all the indications. We have the best show this side of Titusville. Lands can be reasonably obtained. Our citizens will gladly give any information, and assist others who wish to test our territory.

ON and after this date for sixty days we offer for the usual inducements in the way of low prices to close out the balance of our winter stock.
